Dear Friend,

I wanted to update about what's been going on in my life since I was in Colorado this past summer.

If I could sum it up in one word, it would be BUSY. After my time in Colorado, I drove to Kansas for a week to visit relatives. Then, in a span of about 5 days, I flew from Kansas to Connecticut for a wedding, flew back to Kansas, drove back to L.A. and then drove back to San Jose.

Upon arriving in San Jose, I stayed for a week with a family from my church and then when I moved back into the house I rent, my room—mate and I spent a whole week cleaning it up and getting it ready for the school year.

We've been in school for a couple of weeks now, and it's been just as busy. Our fall thrust has been very successful so far. We've seen several students come to know the Lord already, we have more students coming to our weekly campus meeting than ever before (80-90), and we have more students than ever before who are getting involved in Bible studies.

What does this mean for me? Well, I have six guys who I'm committed to discipling and training (Brad, Steve, Eric, Mike W., Mike D., and Jay). Also, I have 16 more guys who are getting involved in Bible studies that I've just started.

I'm telling you all this not only to encourage you about what the Lord has been doing, but to let you know that the last several weeks have been unusually busy and stressful to me. Also, I've been sick recently, and because of my schedule, it's been hard for me to completely get over my sickness.

I appreciate so much your prayers, your encouragement, and your support. I would like to ask you to pray for me in a couple of specific ways:

- that I would be able to get everything done that I need to.
- that I would not get stressed out.
- that the Lord would continue to use me as I walk daily with Him.

Again, thank you for your part in what the Lord is doing here at SJSU. I'm looking forward to what God has in store for us this year.

Serving Him together,
